Crosse and Milwaukee R. R. Co. has declared a dividend of 6 per cent, on all full paid stock, payable in New York on the 1st of July, and in this city on the 7th of July.

The Convention of Wednesday.

The Convention of Wednesday last was entirely harmonious in its deliberations, and its members separated at the final adjournment, to carry to their several homes feelings of increased devotion to the cause of Freedom, which has made such progress in Wisconsin in the past tew years, as to change its position from being almost hopelessly devoted to Sham Democracy, and place it in the van of Free States, worthy of the name. It was pleasant to see and to greet in our city 20 many of our brothren of the Republican press, who have long battled side by side with us for the good cause, and to take by the hand so many of the intelligent, thinking, earnest people, from the "rural districts," who have helped to roll up the majorities which have done the good work for the State. The Resolutions adopted with entire unanimi-

The People of Wisconsin, in Mass Convention assembled, in view of the alarming encroachments of the Slave power manifested through the Lightslative Executive and Judicial department of the Federal Government, in the passage and enforcement of the Fugitive Slave Act of 1850, by which the writ of sebers corpus and the Sight of This lay Jury were annuled; in the Right of Trial by Jury were annulled; it the enactment of the Kansas-Nebraska Di and the administration of the Government it Kansas, by which slavery has been introduced and the administration and the administration and the Kansas, by which slavery has been introduced into free Territory; in the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case, by which Slavery is declared a National institution with the right to be protected in all the Territories of the Enited States, and free colored citizens are denied the rights of citizenship and protection by the Federal Government, do hereby declare:

ation of Cuba, if it can be done peaceably, believing that it would result beneficially to the inhabitants of that island, free and slave.

He is not opposed to the American Union, but hopes that it may stand, and spread over the continent, carrying its life and vigor to the nations which need them so much; but if any portion of the States wish to secede, he would not have them prevented by force-would let them go with a blessing -not with a curse.

Minnesota.—We begin again to feel well satisfied with the election in this Torritory as the chances once more favor democratic supremary. The City of Green Bay—Pensankee—Oconto—Penhingo—Minchanna—Big Stargeon Bay.

Messas Entrops:—The city of Green By is located on the east side of Fox River, where it enters Green Bay. As you pass Depare, five miles above the city, an expansion of the river will be noticed, which continues to its mount.—will be not a great diad grain.

Along both shores you see evidences of its being the route is known, the better it is liked. The remarkably good.

til it now numbers about 5000. This season, Green ment of Fox River, in the amount of goods which ment in Fox inver, in the autount orgonal which are landed upon her wharves, to be sent into the Milwankee & Mississippi R. R. Yours tenly, interior by the river route.

As a natural commercial point, with adequate dockage, and plenty of sea room for passing vessels, Green Bay is ahead of any point on Lake Michigan, and, if I mistake not, the whole Lake coast. Vessels of the largest draft can ascend to Depare, and the river is from $0 to 100 rods in width, with good depth of water at the wharves, affording all the necessary facilities for the shipment of freights up the river, and from up the river to eastern markets.

During my various visits to the city of Green Bay I have been in a hurry and have, therefore, men unable to gather such statistics as would give an idea of the business now doing within its limits. The manufacture of lumber and shingles is one of the greatest importance. A few miles uland, from both banks of the river, are found extensive ridges of excellent pine from which the various mills are supplied with logs. We noticed one raft, we think from Duck creek, which was being towed up to the mills at Depere.

The land immediately upon Fox River, I am told, is of an inferior quality to the country in the interior. Eack a few miles and upon the Oneida reservation, the lands are equal to any in the state, requiring only the energy and industry of the white man to open farms which will exel, in some respects, those in the southern counties of Wisconsin. One fact is indisputable; the central portion, or that part of the state lying north of Oshkosh, produces a better quality, especially of winter wheat, than can be produced for her south. The country is also better adapted grass and pasturage. The white clover is ound growing naturally through the country even mong the plue lands down the Bay shore. The soil, from Appleton north and north east to Green Bay, is of a reddish cast, and is appareatly a marly clay, or a mixture of clay and limes forming a soil at once rich in all the elements for the growth of wheat and grass, while it is of that riability which makes it casy of working. 1 should judge also, that it was admirably adapted to the growth of fruit trees. The wild fruits abound in great profusion on both banks of Fox River. The common supposition that this country is too cold for farming purposes, is a great error, for to my certain knowledge on my last trip up the Fox River, the vegetation was much in advance of that in the Rock River Valley as I advanced South. I should think it at least one week earlier at Green Bay than in Dodge county.

The Oneida reserve comprises about 60,000 acres, lying within seven miles of the city. The tribe consists of about 150 souls. They are diciuishing every year, so that eventually this splendid body of land must get into the hands an industrious agricultural population, who of an industrious agricultural population, was only the rich soil to its proper uses. There are flourishing settlements on Duck Creek, Big Suamico and Little Suamico, at all was sitting a while ago in _____, on the banks of which are extensive lumbering establishments, of the Connecticut. It was not far from this time of which are extensive lumbering establishmeets, in the steamer does not stop the them.

Pensaukee is located about 28 miles from Green Bay, and consists of a large steam mill and also a water mill for sawing.

Last season these mills turned out or 10,000, 1000 feet of pine lumber. Besides the mills are a large boarding house and a few dwelling houses. The country back of Pensaukee is reported to me as good farming land, and many farms and the with a wall of brass, looking for a chance to warm his shins. Nobody moved, however, and

The contract for the erection of the proposed chargement of the State Capitol, was let yesterday to John Ryccraft, Esq., of Milwaukee, his bid being deemed the lowest and best. The price fixed for the entire completion of the work is Ninety-two thousand Dollars. But the contractor takes the appropriation for this work as is is. The fifty thousand dollars in City Bonds at part,—the thirty thousand dollars from the Treasury, when there is money to pay it, twelve thousand dollars from the Capitol Lands, and dollars from the Capitol Lands, when we will be supported in the third winters, we suspect tall half. Breaking Ground.

On Monday the fourth day of May, the con-tractors Messas, Gameien & Alexa, commenced tractors Messee, Garriero & Alber, commenced work on their division of the Milwankee and La Crosse Rulroad, at this village. The division, extends West, lifteen miles to Target bind.—The above contractors are goalead men, and will apply the above the message of the contractors are goalead men, and will apply the message of the message is completed.

It is a great stislaction to us, and must be to every one, that a contract of this insportance has been made with a man who will carry out every term of it to the letter, in good faith. Such a man is John Ryceraft. He is a man of large experience as a builder—possessing a character for integrity above suspicion, and an energy equal to any emergency. He comes backed by the best rames in Milwankee, and no one who knows him, has a douot of his full capacity, and pocuniary responsibility to do a job that will rewhole line from the point to known early been sub-let, in small divisions, and the work to be pushed through to completien in November. This is truly glad tidings to the cidzens of discense County, and will be a highly important earning the history, prospects and business. A HIST TO FRMALES WHO RIDS IN RAILROLF CARS.—The correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial is to be credited with the following seas-

A gentleman entered the ladice car upon one of the Fastern roads, and as the day was chilly appropriated an entire sear in the vicinity of the stoye. Passengers crowded in at every station stoye. stove. Passengers crowded in at every station, and soon every seat was taken except the one occupied by himself. Presently two ladies, (so they appeared) entered the ear, and as no one seemed inclined to offer a vacancy to his own discomfort, our friend, whose gallantry is proverbial, gathered up his shawl, port-manteau and himself, arose, motioned the ladies forward, assisted them into the seat, and took a standard not far distant into the seat, and took a stander not far distant. Not so much as a smile, or how recognized the kindness—it was evidently considered a mark of respect due to female dignity-a privilege which respect due to female dignity—a privilege which any gentleman might be proud to acknowledge.

"Coolly done," remarked an individual in juxtaposition to our friend.

"Decidedly," was the laughing reply, "out I'll give them a lesson by and by, and one they'll be likely to remember."

"Indeed I will; the opportunity is too good to be lost;" and somewhat annoyed, it must be confessed, though less by the lost of his sent, than in the rudeness of its ungracious occupants, he fessed, though less by the loss of the search of the rudeness of its ungracious occupants, he walked away to the window, and occupied his vision with the things without. Another section, another step—the ladies rose to depart. They had nearly reached the coor when a clear, manly voice called out, "Ladies!" - QF -LOTS IN PRAIRIE DU CHIEN! ON WEDNESDAY, June 24th, 1657, we shall sell in fine residence and business lots. Prairie du Chien is r p the attention of Mgr. Gillies, the Roman Catholic Bishop of Edinburg, namely, the heart of Henry H, King of Etgland, who died at Chinen in 1180, and was beried at Fontevrault. It had been enclosed in lead, was taken out of its case during the Revolution, and passed into the Lands of a collector of cutiosities, and afterwards became the property of the city. The Mayor, thinking that Mgr. Gillies would be happy to restore to his country this relic of one its Kings, proposed "that the Municipal Cosmeil of Oriean should authorize the Mayor to deliver to the Bishop of Edinburgh the heart of Henry H, King of England, to be offered by him to the English government." Vessels of the largest draft can ascend to Depore, and the river is from 80 to 100 rods in width, with good depth of water at the wharves, affording all the accessary facilities for the chipment of freights up the river, and from up the river to eastern markets.

During my various visits to the city of Green limits. The manufacture of lumber and shingles is one of the greatest importance. A few miles in the receipt of the other pertions of the appropriation, the contract may be considered as let at about eighty thousand dollars cash, extensive ridges of excellent pine from which the various mills are supplied with logs. We noticed limits. The manufacture of lumber and shingles various mills are supplied with logs. We noticed one raft, we think from Duck creek, which was being towed up to the mills at Depere.

The land immediately upon Fox River, I am told, is of an inferior quality to the country in the interior. Back a few miles and upon the Oncida reservation, the lands are equal to any in the state, requiring only the energy and industry of the white man to open farms which will excel, in some respects, those in the southern coun-Frenchtown, for insulting his wife. After the ties of Wisconsin. One fact is indisputable; the central portion, or that part of the state lying north of Calikosh, produces a better quality, especially of winter wheat, than can be produced further south. The country is also better adapted to grass and pasturage. The white clover is ound growing saturally through the country even onong the piac lands down the Bay shore.

The soil, from Appleton north and north east to Green Bay, is of a reddish east, and is apparently a marly clay, or a mixture of clay and limes forming a soil at once rich in all the elements for the growth of wheat and grass, while it is of that friability which makes it easy of working. should judge also, that it was admirably adapted to the growth of fruit trees. The wild fruits abound in great profusion on both banks of Fox River.

The common supposition that this country is too cold for farming purposes, is a great error, for to my certain knowledge on my last trip up the Fox River, the vegetation was much in advance of that in the Rock River Valley as I advanced South. I should think it at least one week earlier as Green Bay than in Dodge county. The Oncida reserve comprises about 60,000 eres, lying within seven miles of the city. The tribe consists of about 150 souls. They are diminishing every year, so that eventually this splendid body of land must get into the hands of an industrious agricultural population, who will put the rich soil to its proper uses. Nothing would contribute so much to the growth and prosperity of this city, as the speedy occupancy f this extensive tract by the farming population of the eastern States and of Europe. It is in fact such a class of population which Green Bay seds. Speculators have had possession of some of the best lands in her vicinity, ever since the first land sale in 1805, and instead of growing ich out of them, have found their present value caten up by taxes and interest, during the period of 28 years. Greediness and avariee often incoverish themselves by excessive indulgence, and the masterly speech of the Professor was called hat meried tebuke. and these old speculation are remarkable in stances.

For the past year or two, Green Bay appears chave awaked to the fact that if she ultimately ttains the eminence, us a commercial point, which her unrivated natural advantages entitle her to expect, she must put forth her energies to neartrate the country to the north and west of her with rail and plank roads, to draw towards her the products of the interior, and to make hersell the great entrepot for the goods and produce destined for the central and northern parts of the State. She can only do this by lending a liberal hand. The country has recently loaned its credit to the construction of the Lake Shore Road to Green Bay, to the amount of $800,000. This seems to be a move in the wrong direction. It would have been wisdom to have lent aid to a project which would have brought produce and trade to the city-which would have been accomplished by constructing a road to connect with the Land Grant road at Appleton, 28 miles, or make a beginning on the Green Bay and Magnesota Rail-

With two or three Railroads branching from decity towards the grain growing districts of the interior, Green Bay, undoubtedly, would be a point for the shipment of large amounts of grain and flour.

With one-half the energy and liberality Milvankee has shown to her Railroad projects, Green Bay would prove a powerful competitor with her for the grain trade of the State.

I must leave further remarks in regard t

Green Bay city, and speak of some of the settle ents down the Bay. The Fannie Fisk steamer makes regular trips to the mouth of the Menomonee, three times per week, stopping first at Pensaukee. There are flourishing settlements on Duck Pensaukee is located about 23 miles from Green Bay, and consists of a large steam mill and also settlements are being made. There is good hard wood timber for ship building to be found in that vicinity. The milis and village are the property of F. B. GARDNER, Esq., of Chicago, who is extensively interested in lumbering at other points on the Bay. He has built out a dock so that a small steamer can land with ut difficulty. His vessels, however, are leaded with lumber by ows outside. Six miles further the steamer turns and runs some two or three miles up the Oconto River, and hauls up at Hart's dock in the village of conto. This place has grown up very rapidly. Eighteen months ago but half a dozen houses besides one steam and two water mills were all that existed. Now there are six mills, with six

Of this we think the people will be fully satisfied when the work ine people with section to us, and must be to is completed.

It is a great stisfaction to us, and must be to every one, that a contract of this importance has been made with a man who will carry out every item of it to the letter, in good faith. Such a man is John Ryccraft. He is a man of large a man is John Ryschard. He is a man of large experience as a builder—possessing a character for integrity above suspicion, and an energy equal to any emergency. He comes backed by the best names in Milwankee, and no one who knows him, has a doubt of his full capacity, and recognize responsibility to do a lob that will resnows nim, and a doubt to do a job that will re-pecuniary responsibility to do a job that will re-lect credit upon the builder, and be an ornament to the State and the beautiful site upon which the Capitol States.

By this contract, appropriation made will enfirely complete the work, and it is presumed that there will be a few thousand dollars left.

BREWERIES AT WEST BEND .- The West Bend Democrat, in noticing the breweries of Mayers

Beet, of histories, while on his way to Fond du Lac, with a two horse wagon load of beer, through mud holes and over cordurey reads, would stop in this village and Barton, and favor the early settlers with limited quantities of the "barley bree."

State of Wisconsin were gathered in this city today, to celebrate their annual festival. They met this afterneon, in the Assembly room of the State Capitol, a listle before two o'clock.

Among them: we noticed the "ollest inhabitants" of almost every county of the State, save those who had "fallen by the wayside," the gallant dead of the army of peaceful occupation.—
Among them we noticed Joseph Crehe, probably the first or one of the first white men who ever planted foot and reared a home upon the soil of Wisconsin. This venerable old man has reached the extraordinary sage of one hundred and seventeen years and still is as vigorous and full of life as most old men of seventy or eighty full of life as most old men of seventy or eighty He must have first visited this state some years. He must have next tested a large eligitivisity years ago. He attracted a large share of kindly attention and remark.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. E. Brigham of Blue Mounds.

Rov. Mr. Brooks, of the Baptist Caurch, in this city, then offered up an elequent and appropriate opening prayer.

stemul to with deep attention and marked interest. It was an effect worthy the speaker and the eccasion, and we regret our inability to pub-lish is herewith, and we are sure those who heard it would be glad to see it in a form where it could be preserved.

A resolution of thanks and requesting a copy of the address to deposite in the archives of the Society was then passed.

The officers of the Society for the ensuing year were then reported by the committee ap-pointed for that purpose, and the report adopted after a little good natured bantering by some of the notations. We will give their names as soon the nominees. We will give their names as soon as we can obtain them from the Secretary.

Me. Baird of Green Bay, then addressed the meeting, giving a brief sketch of his settlement in this State, and the appearance of the country then and now. He settled at Green Bay in 1824, and has remained there ever since.

Col. Childs, of La Crosse, followed. He claimed to be the first American born settler of the State. He settled at Green Bay in 1820.—

Mrs. Baird was the first white woman in the State he believed. Dr. Castleman was then called, but excused himself from making any extended remarks on the score of ill health.

Mr. John Y. Smith of this city, followed, in some vary happy remarks. He went from Buf-falo to Green Bay twenty-nine years ago, in the splendid fast sailing schooner Lady of the Lake, vessel of 70 tons burthen, in about four weeks. One or two other speakers followed, when the Pioneers adjourned to the supper rooms of the Capital House, to partake of the goods things prepared for them there.—Madison Journal. The following is the list of officers chosen for the year:

President—Henry S. Baird, of Green Bay.
Vice Presidents—Gen. John H. Rountree, of Platville; Col. Ebenezer Child, of La Crosse;
Or. B. B. Cary, of Racine; Hon. Geo. H. Wai-Dr. B. B ker, of Milwankee.

Executive Committee—Hon. A. A. Baird, of

Madison; Wm. N. Seymour, do.; Hon. S. Mills, do.; Hon. Levi Sterling, of Mineral Point; Albert G. Knight, of Racine. Secretary-Lyman C. Drapir, of Madison. Treasurer-Darwin Clark, of Madison.

A HINT TO FEMALES WHO EIDE IN EAILBOAT CARS.—The correspondent of the Cinchmati Com-mercial is to be credited with the following seasonable anecdote:

A gentleman entered the ladies' car upon one of the Fastern roads, and as the day was chilly, appropriated an entire seat in the vicinity of the stove. Passengers crowded in at every station, and soon every seat was taken except the one occupied by himself. Presently two ladies, (so they appeared) entered the car, and as no one searned inclined to offer a vacancy to his own dissecreted inclined to offer a vacancy to his own disthey appeared entered the ear, and as no one seemed inclined to offer a vacancy to his own discomfort, our friend, whose gallautry is proverbial, gathered up his shawl, port-manteau and himself, grose, motioned the halies forward, assisted them into the rest and tasks. into the seat, and took a standee not far distant Not so much as a smile, or bow recognized the kindness—it was evidently considered a mark of respect due to female dignity—a privilege which

"Coolly done," remarked an individual in juxtaposition to our friend.
"Decidedly," was the langhing reply, "but I'll give them a lesson by and by, and one they'll be likely to remember."

"Why, you won't say anything, surely?"

"Indeed I will; the opportunity is too good to be lost;" and somewhat annoyed, it must be confessed, though less by the loss of his sent, than by the judeners of its ungracious occupants, he nessen, though less by me loss of me seal, that we the indeness of its impractions occupants, he walked away to the window, and occupied hi vision with the things without. Thus, for a less price than the annual rent o' a scarcely decent small dwelling, the mechanic or labering man can obtain and own a dwelling, which he can put up or take down at pleasure, wherever he can find a place up on which to erect it. In these times, such a consumma tion is very desirable. PROVOKING .- Nesterday morning Spring St rain! A shout from a policemen brought the fellow to a jumping across place of about ten feet, and the other ifte was about as many feet too long! Another effort, with the assistance and instructions of a policeman, was accessful in closing the bridge! All we can do is to hop that there is a time coming, when our bridges will be properly managed, and that time will only come when nen who understand their business have charge of

during the past few days a steam pile driving machine at work on Detroit street, which, for convenience, far sur-passes anything of the kind that we have ever seen in this city. The boller, engine and machinery are all placed upon a large wagon, which is closed in, and looks very much like a small house, and so light is it that four with the machinery, was manufactured by Messrs. Turton & Sercomb, at the Esgle Foundry. This machine is much more convenient than the old method, which was by horse-power, except upon the sides of the river where the floating pile-driver could be brought near enough.— This can be carried anywhere, and will do more work than eight horses, without half the trouble or delay. This them there, brought them to the above hetel, and charged time to be late, undoubtedly to have an opportunity to extert more money from them. The runner was arrested and taken before Justice Walworth, but the poor German was so simple and unsophisticated, and the other dedged the charges brought ogainst him so knowingly, that he was discharged unpunished.

ACCIDENT TO THE PROPELLER NIAGARA,-The propeller Niagara in going down the river yesterday af-ternoon, ran against the abutment of the lluren street bridge, and stove quite a hole in one side of the vessel.—
